

VOCORI works with children, families, communities and sponsors with the object of improving the well-being of children and their communities. We work in partnership with children, their families and the communities at large in targeting poverty reduction through child-focused development programmes. We believe this strategy brings on board long lasting results to the benefit of all the players.

Who would be a father, a mother to me? Would you be like her/his father/mother?

Copyright © 2014 by World Vision. All rights reserved. This document is the property of World Vision and is not to be distributed, copied, or reproduced without the written permission of World Vision.